

Attendee/Presenter:

Peter Fourtounis, AIA, LEED AP
Project Manager
Elkus Manfredi Architects

About Peter:

Peter Fourtounis is a Project Manager at Elkus Manfredi Architects in Boston with over two decades of design experience. His recently completed projects include the Health Professions and Student Services Building for North Shore Community College, which is the Commonwealth's first Zero Net Energy Building. Peter is active in several state and regional initiatives for the development of government policies for high performance buildings. Mr. Fourtounis has won numerous awards for design excellence, including the Leading by Example Sustainable Design Award and has presented on sustainable design at conferences throughout the region.